

Egypt to Host IDC CIO Summit 2018 to Develop a Blueprint for Thriving in Digital Economy

Cairo Apr 30, 2018: Egypt hosts the annual International Data Corporation (IDC)'s flagship event, Egypt CIO Summit where a number of Egypt's most influential CIOs and decision makers will appear on Monday, May 7 at The Nile Ritz-Carlton in Cairo.

The fourth edition of the summit offers a unique opportunity for the region's leading CIOs to network with the industry's brightest lights, discover cutting-edge insights into the latest tech trends, and share invaluable experiences with their peers.

Running under the theme 'Developing a Blueprint for Thriving in the Digital Economy, His Excellency Yasser Elkady, Egypt's Minister of Communications and Information Technology, will inaugurate the summit with an honorary keynote.

The event has already a long list of partners and sponsors including Egypt's IT Development Agency as a strategic partner in addition to IBM and Oracle as partners to the summit.

Attendees will engage in a full day of interactive workshops, panel discussions, and case studies, and learnings about emerging ICT trends such as digital business, disruptive automation, cloud innovation, digital security, IoT, and more.
